You'll also have the option to go part-time, or switch between the two. If you need to take a break in your study, that's an option too. We recommend speaking to your Student Adviser who can help you update your study plan and check when your courses are offered.

“The flexibility of a 100% online degree enables our family to travel while managing a small Australian distribution business, which I do from a co-working space in Ubud, Bali.

My first year of study has filled in a lot of gaps in my business knowledge, which has given me a lot more confidence in running my business. While I can produce and understand financial reports more efficiently, the major benefit has been improving my knowledge and understanding across all areas of business.”

“I have worked in the fast food industry for over a decade. I became the manager at Subway as a teenager and quickly worked my way up the ranks to become an area manager who is responsible for eight stores. I have a wealth of work experience and a strong management background, but no formal education to back it up. This hit home when I missed out on a job opportunity because I lacked the relevant university qualifications.

Studying online means I can prioritise my time with my young children. I can study full-time and not worry that my degree will interfere with my duties as a full-time mother who runs a household while also working on a casual basis.”

It means that I can study during my child’s gymnastic class, when I’m waiting in the car, or on a weekend trip away.”

“Studying 100% online works perfectly for me. Some universities were offering degrees that were delivered half in a classroom and half online, which just wouldn’t have worked for me. I have two children and studying on campus would not be possible.

The quality of my study material is great and the academics are wonderful. The fact that we’re able to access our material a week prior to the study period is extremely helpful.”

“I find the work I do very interesting and have learned a lot from my team but I’ve felt I needed something more concrete to be able to put on my resume.

Initially I thought it would be difficult to motivate myself without the consistency of having a set class schedule. Luckily after starting, I was quickly reassured that my worries were ill-founded.

I’ve found that because my study directly relates to my day-to-day occupation, I am actually really enjoying the course content. The courses also have a lot of structure to them, laid out week by week, and online tutors are very accessible via chat, forums or Zoom meetings.”
